DETAILED ACTION

The applicant's response filed 10/25/06 to the Office action has been entered. Claims 1-2, 5-11, 13-15, 17-28, 31-33, 66, 69-82 are pending.

1. The rejection of claims 21 and 22 under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hughes et al. (5939301, issued August 17, 1999) as applied to claims 1-2, 5-11, 13-15, 17-20, 23-28, 31-33, and 66-82 above, and further in view of Huo (5,922,535, issued July 13, 1999) is withdrawn because of the statement of the Declaration filed 10/15/06.
2. Claims 1-2, 5-11, 13-15, 17-20, 23-28, 31-33, 66 and 69-82 remain rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Hughes et al. (5939301, issued August 17, 1999).

Hughes et al. disclose a method of DNA sequencing with thermostable mutant polymerases (See the Abstract, column 20, lines 24-47). The mutant polymerase can be used in molecular biology (See column 3, lines 18-20) such as sequencing and amplification (See column 1, 39-41). The mutant polymerase is the mutant of Thermotoga neapolitana (Tne) polymerase (See the abstract). The mutant polymerase has reduced 3' to 5' exonuclease activity, 5'-3' exonuclease activity and mutation in the O-helix of the polymerase (See the abstract, column 1, lines 29-41, column 7, lines 6-15, column 8, lines 41-67). Tne DNA polymerase mutant has substitutes a Tyr for Phe at amino acid position 67 and other changes within the O-helix (See column 9, lines 6-13). Hughes et al. also disclose a kit containing the mutant polymerase Tne (See column 12, lines 5-34).

Hughes et al. do not explicitly disclose that the mutant polymerase reduces the ability to add one or more non-templated nucleotides to the 3' terminus of a synthesized DNA molecule and produces a population of amplified DNA fragments, wherein less than about 50% of the amplified DNA fragments have one or more non-templated 3' nucleotide compared to amplification products produced by Taq DNA polymerase assayed under the same condition as recited in claims 1, 2, 23 and 66. However, these limitations set forth above are the results of the method or the function of the mutant polymerase. Since the mutant polymerase of Hughes et al. has the same mutated position as the mutated polymerase recited in the instant claims, it is inherent that both mutated polymerases are having the same function. In addition as both mutated polymerases are applied in the same amplification conditions, it would have the same results as recited in the claims.

Moreover, the limitations discussed above are recited as function limitations and results of the method. These limitations do not have patentable weight.

Claims 69-82 further recite the limitations regarding the results of the method or the function of the mutated polymerase. As discussed above, these limitations do not have patentable weight. Thus, the teachings of Hughes anticipate the limitations of the claims.

The response argues that the applicants have filed concurrently herewith a Declaration under 37 CFR 1.131 antedating the filing date of the Hughes references. However, the Declaration only states that U.S. SN: 09/891,332 and U.S. Patent 5,939,301 were commonly owned by Life Technologies, Inc. ("LT") at the time the invention of U.S. SN: 09/891,332 was made. There is no ~~not~~ statement regarding antedating the filing date of the Hughes references. Thus, the rejection is maintained.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 21-22 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

4. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

Concerning claims 21-22, no prior art has been found teaching or suggesting the method of claim 1 used in determining the relationship between a first individual and a second individual in which the individuals are analyzed according to the method of claim 1.

Summary

5. No claims are allowed.

6. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
